

Nilanjan Ghosh, MD, PhD, FACP

Dr. Ghosh is chair of the Department of Hematologic Oncology and Blood Disorders at Atrium Health and Professor at Wake Forest School of Medicine. He specializes in lymphoma and chronic lymphocytic leukemia.

Dr. Ghosh's research interests include CAR T-cell therapy, bispecific antibodies, mechanisms of resistance, and overcoming disparities in healthcare. He has published research manuscripts in prestigious journals. He serves as a principal investigator on numerous innovative clinical trials.

Dr. Ghosh has received awards from the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) and the Leukemia Lymphoma Society (LLS). He has been named a Charlotte magazine Top Doctor and is a Castle Connolly Top Doctor.